

MSCA POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

AT PALACKÝ UNIVERSITY OLOMOUC

SUPERVISOR

Mgr. Ema Jelínková, Ph.D. is a research assistant at Palacký University Olomouc. Her research interests include Scottish literature, women's writing and satire. She is the author of the survey British Literary Satire in Historical Perspective (2010) and the monograph Ambivalence v románech Muriel Sparkové (2006). She has co-authored a series of collective monographs on aspects of Scottish fiction, including Scottish Gothic Fiction (2012) and Scottish Women Writers of Hybrid Identity (2014).

PALACKY UNIVERSITY OLOMOUC

The Department of English and American Studies is as old as the re-established university.

It started its educational and research activities in 1946 as one of the topmost institutions pursuing the classical model of modern philology, comprising language, literature and cultural studies. This profile has been maintained to the present. In the current European educational context the scope of its interest has been broadened by the offer of applied and theoretically less rigorous programmes, such as English for Translation and Interpreting.

Submit a research outline (including your research objectives, novelty, state of the art, methodology and references), and your CV with the most important publications of the past 5 years by 15.4.2026 to ema.jelinkova@upol.cz.
